

Position Vacant Internal Sales Representative

Gough Plastics is a family-owned company based in Townsville, since 1989.

Gough Plastics is a Rotational Moulding company with Global and Australasian expertise specialising in new products from conception through to point of sale with an environmental focus that influences every aspect of our profession. The company takes great pride in its achievements in all fields, especially those which have a bearing on Health and Environmental matters. We manufacture items such as Water Tanks; Toilet systems; durable storage containers; underbody gear; cattle feed troughs; and heavy duty plastic crane dunnage. We also offer customised plastic fabrication services with our state of the art plastics welding, bending, 3D Printing and CNC routing machines

Our business currently seeks an experienced, motivated Internal Sales Representative to join our team. This role is front counter based and looks after the sales of all of our Rainwater Tanks and 4WD Accessories nationwide. The role services existing accounts and has plenty of potential to establish new accounts.

The successful candidate must be able to demonstrate:

- Previous sales experience
- Organisational skills and attention to detail
- Ability to multitask and work within a busy environment
- Ability to communicate effectively in oral and written form
- Ability to quickly learn Maximiser, Attache & MS Outlook.
- Ability to meet targets
- Ability to work within team environments to achieve business objectives
- Ability to follow defined Workplace Health and Safety policies and procedures

In this permanent position you will receive full training to make you an expert straight away. Your team is focused on supporting you to establish yourself in the role long term and you will enjoy the fast paced environment this position provides.
